

Filing a financial statement of judgment debtor

ORGANISATION

When should I use this form?

This form lets the judgment creditor find out more about a judgment debtor's ability to pay a judgment debt. And it lets the judgment debtor provide information so that a financial assessment can be completed without a hearing being required.

Use this form if all the following apply:

- you are either the judgment creditor or the judgment debtor
- the money owed in a judgment or court order has not been paid
- you can provide the required information for a financial assessment to be completed – as set out in Section C of this form.

If the judgment debtor is an individual, use form MOJ208/04/18.

How is a judgment creditor able to file a financial statement for the judgment debtor?

An example of this is when the judgment creditor has issued the judgment debtor with a notice to complete a financial statement and the debtor complies with the request. If the judgment creditor is filing the judgment debtor's financial statement, they must include the date and source of the financial information provided.

How do I complete this form?

This form has three sections:

- Section A is for information about the applicant. The applicant can be either the judgment creditor or the judgment debtor.
- Section B is for the date and your signature. You must complete Section B.
- Section C is the financial statement of the judgment debtor.
- You can only use this form to file one financial statement for one debtor. If you have more than one debtor, you must file a separate statement for each debtor.

Who can sign this form?

You can only sign this form if you are the judgment creditor, the judgment debtor, or their lawyer. Anyone can help you complete the rest of the form.

How much does it cost to make a financial statement?

The fee is $65. If the financial statement is filed by the judgment creditor, the court can order the judgment debtor to repay the fee.

KEY WORDS

Below are explanations of some of the words we use in this application form.

Court order Issued by a court or tribunal that requires a person or organisation to do, or stop doing, something.

Enforcement Action authorised by a court to get the judgment debtor to comply with a judgment or court order.

Financial statement A summary of the judgment debtor's income, expenditure and assets for the past 52 weeks.

Judgment The decision of a judge in court proceedings. It also includes the reason(s) the judge gives for their decision.

Judgment creditor The person or organisation money is owed to in a judgment or court order.

Judgment debt The sum of money awarded to the successful party (the judgment creditor) in a judgment or court order. The money is owed to the judgment creditor by the unsuccessful party (the judgment debtor).

Judgment debtor The person or organisation who owes money in a judgment or court order.

How do I file the financial statement?

You can file the financial statement by post, in person or electronically through File and Pay. You must also serve a copy of the financial statement on the other party, by post, email or handing a copy to the other party.

You must pay the filing fee with the financial statement.

By post

Post the financial statement to: Central Registry, DX SX10042 Wellington.

In person

See justice.govt.nz/contact-us/find-us for the address of your nearest District Court.

File and Pay

You can file the financial statement electronically and also pay the filing fee through File and Pay on courtsofnz.govt.nz/file-and-pay

What are the next steps after filing a financial statement?

The court will make a decision based on the information supplied in the financial statement. No assessment hearing will occur.

Both the judgment creditor and the judgment debtor will be advised of the outcome.
